NTAA/EPA Webinar Series: National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS)

The National Tribal Air Association (NTAA) and the U.S. Environmental Protection agency (EPA) are co-hosting a three-part webinar series on the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for tribal air agencies.

Under the Clean Air Act (CAA), the EPA is required to set national air quality standards (NAAQS) and review those standards every five years for six common air pollutants (also known as “criteria” air pollutants). There are NAAQS for ground-level ozone (O<sub>3</sub>); particulate matter (PM); carbon monoxide (CO), lead (Pb), sulfur dioxide (SO<sub>2</sub>), and nitrogen dioxide (NO<sub>2</sub>).

These criteria air pollutants are found all across the United States and can harm your health, the environment, and cause property damage.

In this webinar series, you will learn how the EPA: 1) sets, reviews and revises the primary (health) and secondary (environmental) standards; 2) designate areas that are meeting or not meeting these standards; and 3) works with areas to meet and maintain these standards. You will also hear from tribal environmental professionals on their perspectives and experiences with the NAAQS regulatory, designations, and implementation process.

During each 1 ½ hour webinar, there will be an overview presentation of the topic followed by a question and answer session.

Webinar #2: NAAQS - Designations

(This session will discuss the designations process, the different categories (i.e., attainment, nonattainment, unclassifiable, and unclassifiable/attainment), and what it means if your area of Indian country does not meet the NAAQS and what role the tribes can play in the designations process.)

Date: Monday, February 13, 2017

Time: 2:00 – 3:30 PM EST

Participant Dial-in Number: (800) 309-5450

Conference ID: 46429567

Climate Change / Energy

U.S. Vice President Al Gore, the American Public Health Association (APHA), The Climate Reality Project, Harvard Global Health Institute, the University of Washington Center for Health and the Global Environment and Dr. Howard Frumkin, former director of the CDC's National Center for Environmental Health, will host a Climate & Health Meeting that will take place on February 16, 2017 at The Carter Center in Atlanta, Georgia. Supported by the Turner Foundation and other organizations, the one-day event will fill the gap left by the recently-canceled Climate & Health Summit originally to be hosted and sponsored by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and others. Click here for more information.

Toxic / Mobile Sources

The Tribal Pesticide Program Council (TPPC) request your participation in a short survey to identify challenges and best practices in Indian country to implement the Agricultural Worker Protection Standard (WPS) regulation.

This survey will serve as a helpful tool to identify the need for Tribal Pesticide Regulators/Educators to implement the new WPS regulations, identify challenges they may experience in relation to the revisions that have taken effect in 2017 and will continue into wholly implementing WPS rules in 2018. The information you provide will be used to support the development of resources and materials on implementing the WPS rule by creating publications that are appropriate and relevant to audiences by the way of delivering training that represent your geographic sector.

We ask that the TPPC and other Tribal Pesticide Inspector, Regulators and Educators, take a couple minutes to complete the short survey by Friday, February 10th. Please click on the link below to complete the short survey: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/Y6B78VX>

Additional Information on the Agricultural Worker Protection Standard (WPS)

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is implementing stronger protections for agricultural workers and their families working on farms, forests, nurseries, and greenhouses. The Worker Protection Standard (WPS) revision is designed to protect agricultural workers by increasing protections from pesticide exposures. It contains requirements for protective equipment, restricted-entry times following pesticide applications, safety training, and other elements to prevent poisoning and injury from pesticides. The majority of the WPS revision has been in effect as of January 2, 2017. For more information, check out EPA's Webpage.

Indoor Air Quality

U.S. EPA is coordinating a workshop on residential wood heating (RWH) issues and strategies in Atlanta, GA on Feb. 28 – March 3, 2017.

This workshop will be held in conjunction with the Hearth, Patio and Barbeque Association Trade Show and is being coordinated by EPA and NESCAUM. We anticipate participation by state, local, tribal, federal and non-profit organization colleagues, who will present and discuss wood heating/combustion program issues, opportunities, challenges and lessons learned. A draft agenda is attached to this email.

Workshop participants will also have the opportunity to see firsthand various hearth technologies, many of them burning wood, wood pellets and gas and meet with industry representatives. The meeting is being held in Atlanta, GA, in conjunction with the Hearth, Patio and Barbeque Association Trade Show. Below is logistics information and a draft meeting agenda. You can register for this event at: <http://atlantameeting.eventzilla.net>

EPA is looking for volunteers to present information on their wood smoke reduction efforts at this workshop. If you would like to present, please contact Larry Brockman (brockman.larry@epa.gov) or Lisa Rector (lrector@nescalum.org). Also if you have suggestions for agenda items, please let us know. FYI, space is limited and will be filled on a first come, first serve basis. Who should attend?

The meeting is intended for state, local, tribal, federal and non-profit organization personnel who are interested in learning about and discussing residential wood combustion program issues, opportunities, challenges and lessons learned. In addition, workshop participants will have the opportunity to see firsthand various advanced hearth technologies, many of them burning wood, wood pellets and gas. How do I register?

Registration occurs at <http://atlantameeting.eventzilla.net>, there is no cost to register. You are welcome to attend all or some of the sessions. DO NOT register through the Hearth, Patio and Barbecue Association's EXPO website. However, we would encourage you to check out the website to provide background on the EXPO: <http://hpbexpo.com/>

Where should I stay?

There is a block of rooms reserved at the Residence Inn Downtown Atlanta (134 Peachtree Street NW) at the federal government rate of $148/night until Wednesday, February 15. Click here to book your group rate under "FGE EPA". If you have any troubles booking a room, contact Amanda Britt with the Residence Inn at 404-522-0950.

EPA offers free IAQ Tools for Schools resources—including the School IAQ Assessment Mobile App—to help schools maintain a healthy indoor environment by identifying, correcting and preventing IAQ problems. Learn more about the IAQ Tools for Schools guidance and access other valuable school environmental health resources at www.epa.gov/iaq-schools.

If you have any questions about the IAQ Tools for Schools guidance, please contact the IAQ Tools for Schools Connector Coordinator at iaqschools@epa.gov.

U.S. HUD published our full Housing Needs Study of American Indians and Alaska Natives on January 19, 2017. A press release and further detail on the study is available here. HUD also posted this news to our Codetalk website.

The study found that American Indian tribes are building more housing units after enactment of the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996 (NAHASDA) but housing conditions are substantially worse among American Indian households than other U.S. households.

There was an interesting briefing on the study yesterday, which should be available on HUD's youtube channel soon. HUD plans to release a separate study of Native Hawaiian housing needs at the end of February.

NTAA's Indoor Air Quality Work Group will hold its next call on Thursday, April 13th at 2 pm ET. To join the work group or the call, please contact NTAA Project Director Andy Bessler at andy.bessler@nau.edu.

U.S. EPA Request for Applications (RFA): "National Indoor Environments Program: Reducing Public Exposure to Indoor Pollutants"

U.S. EPA's Office of Air and Radiation (OAR), Indoor Environments Division (IED) has posted a new RFA (EPA-OAR-ORIA-17-02) here, www.epa.gov/grants/air-grants-and-funding, and here, www.grants.gov/web/grants/view-opportunity.html?oppId=290725.

Examples of projects eligible for funding include those that result in (1) an increase in the number of homes and schools built with radon-reducing features, (2) an increase in the number of home visiting programs providing in-home asthma interventions by licensed providers in disproportionately affected communities, and (3) an increase in the number of homes, schools and office buildings with interventions that reduce exposure to multiple indoor air contaminants.

EPA expects to make between 10 and 20 awards. The selected indoor environments projects will be funded in the amount of $2–4 million annually, for up to 3 years (2018–2020). Closing Date: Friday, February 17, 2017, 4:00 p.m. EST.

Roots of Wisdom: Native Knowledge. Shared Science.

Over countless years living on the same land, Native peoples have observed and managed their local environments. Today, Native communities around the world face many challenges to their ecosystems and their health, but they have found innovative solutions through combining traditional knowledge, passed down through generations, with modern science to meet these challenges. Roots of Wisdom: Native Knowledge. Shared Science, a traveling banner exhibition developed by the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry (OMSI), features inspiring stories of ecological restoration from four Indigenous communities: Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, Tulalip Tribes, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians and the Waikalua Loko Fishpond Preservation Society in Hawaii.

As Native people restore their environments, they are revitalizing their cultural traditions and heritage - and offering answers to other communities. The exhibition was developed, produced, and circulated by: Oregon Museum of Science and Industry, Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service and Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian. #### U.S. EPA Air Grants and Funding:

EPA's Office of Air and Radiation (OAR) announces competitive funding announcements for projects and programs relating to air quality, transportation, climate change, indoor air and other related topics. This page provides access to information about current funding opportunities under 'Open Announcements' and also provides as a reference tool, all previously announced funding announcements listed below and in archives under 'Closed Announcements'.

First Nations Launches Two New Grant Opportunities Under Its Native Ag and Food Systems Initiative

First Nations Development Institute (First Nations) has launched two new grant opportunities under its Native Agriculture and Food Systems Initiative (NAFSI). Proposals for both grant programs will be accepted online and must be submitted by no later than 5 p.m. Mountain Standard Time on Friday, February 17, 2017.

With the generous support of the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and Agua Fund, First Nations will award up to 12 grants of up to $35,000 each to support projects that aim to strengthen local food-system control; increase access to local, healthy and traditional foods; and decrease food insecurity and food deserts, all with an emphasis on serving Native American children and families. For this grant opportunity, examples of allowable activities include, but are not limited to:

- Community Garden Development
- Food Sovereignty Initiatives
- Food System Planning
- Supply Chain Improvements
- Grower-Based Education Programs
- Intergenerational Programs with a Focus on Food

First Nations will also award up to 10 grants of up to $15,000 each to Native communities looking to conduct food sovereignty assessments in order to gain a better knowledge and understanding about the historical, current and future state of their local food systems. Under this grant opportunity, examples of allowable activities include, but are not limited to:

- Food Sovereignty Assessment Planning
- Conducting Food Sovereignty Assessments
- Data Analysis of Food Sovereignty Assessment Surveys
- Community Meetings Related to a Food Sovereignty Assessment

The Request for Proposals for program grants can be accessed at <http://www.firstnations.org/grantmaking/2017NAFSI> and the Request for Proposals for the food sovereignty assessment grants can be accessed at <http://www.firstnations.org/grantmaking/2017FSA>. Organizations are invited to apply for one or both of these opportunities.

Entities eligible to apply include U.S.-based, Native American-controlled, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organizations, tribes and tribal departments, tribal organizations, or Native American community-based groups with eligible fiscal sponsors committed to increasing healthy food access in rural and reservation-based Native communities and improving the health and well-being of Native American children and families.

2017 EPA EJ Small Grants Opportunity (EPA-OECA-OEJ-17-01)DEADLINE EXTENDED to February 10, 2017!

The submission deadline for the 2017 EPA EJ Small Grants opportunity has been extended. The new Closing Date to Friday, February 10, 2017 at 11:59 PM (ET).

The Amended Request for Proposals (RFP) document has been posted on Grants.gov here: <http://www.grants.gov/web/grants/view-opportunity.html?oppId=289829> and on the EPA Environmental Justice website here: <https://www.epa.gov/environmentaljustice/environmental-justice-small-grants-program#tab-2>

All other terms and conditions of the RFP remain unchanged. This amendment replaces the previous version of the RFP. Please contact Jacob Burney at burney.jacob@epa.gov or 202-564-2907 for any questions about the RFP deadline extension.

Climate Change/EnergyDOE SunShot Initiative Launches Challenge to Expand Solar Access to More Communities, Including Tribes

In an effort to make solar energy more accessible for every American, the DOE SunShot Initiative has launched the $5 million Solar in Your Community Challenge, a new prize competition that aims to improve solar electricity access for low- and moderate-income households; state, local, and tribal governments; and nonprofit organizations.

The Solar in Your Community Challenge encourages the development of innovative financial and business models that serve low- and moderate-income communities that may have been left out of the solar boom. Offering $5 million in cash prizes and technical assistance over 18 months, the challenge supports teams across the country to develop projects or programs that reach underserved customers in their communities, while proving that these business models can be widely replicated and scaled up.

The early application deadline to participate in the challenge is Jan. 6, 2017, and the regular deadline is March 17, 2017. Learn more about how tribes and other communities can participate in the competition and apply today.

Currently, the Indoor Environments Program focuses on critical aspects of indoor air quality that pose significant risks to public health, particularly to children and other disproportionately affected segments of society. The Program’s priorities include, yet are not limited to (1) radon, (2) indoor environmental asthma triggers, and (3) multiple indoor air contaminants.

Examples of projects eligible for funding include those that result in (1) an increase in the number of homes and schools built with radon-reducing features, (2) an increase in the number of home visiting programs providing in-home asthma interventions by licensed providers in disproportionately affected communities, and (3) an increase in the number of homes, schools and office buildings with interventions that reduce exposure to multiple indoor air contaminants.

U.S. HUD - HUD recipients can request technical assistance on basically any subject, as long as is it related to NAHASDA. The requests come in to the ONAP Area Office, which typically considers whether the tribe has any other TA needs, and then assembles a TA request package for HQ to consider. From what I have been able to gather, training on indoor air issues has never been requested - but it could be. ONAP has contracts with certain TA providers for these TA requests. Those TA providers may subcontract as needed. The link below names the TA providers and discusses the process. A link to the ONAP CodeTalk website is provided below in case you are interested in getting a better feel for ONAP's Area Office structure. TA process:
